Calling All Sinners!

“When Simon Peter saw it [the huge catch of fish sinking the boats], he fell down at Jesus’ knees, saying, ‘Go away from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man!’ ...Then Jesus said to Simon, ‘Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching people.’” – Luke 5: 8 & 10b

Dear sisters and brothers in Christ,

Are you a sinner? Then God is calling you! Jesus is calling you to follow him, put your trust in Him, serve him, and catching people with his love. Do you hear the call? Do you believe that God is calling you? Do you trust that Jesus can and will use you to the glory of God?

My youth director used to tell us, “God doesn’t call the qualified; God qualifies the called.” She’d tell us this every time we hesitated to volunteer, or hang back instead of stepping forward to help or lead, and especially when we started making excuses why we couldn’t do something. Hesitating and making excuses for why we do not follow Jesus and serve as his disciples in the world; using whatever gifts, skills, and talents God has given us; seems to be an epidemic among Christians.

Simon Peter fell at Jesus’ knees giving Jesus his excuse, “Go away from me, Lord,” adding as the core of his excuse the truth about himself, “I am a sinful man!” Notice that Jesus did not contradict Peter, or accept his excuse. By his blatantly ignoring Peter’s excuse, Jesus is saying to him, “Yeah, I know you are a sinful man. But that doesn’t disqualify you from following and serving me. I qualify you by my call!” Notice too, that Jesus also addresses the underlying issue, Simon Peter’s fear. “Do not be afraid,” Jesus says, “from now on you will be catching people.” Peter discovers, and so will we, that even though we are sinners who make mistakes, who don’t have the right answers or understanding, whose faith is less than stellar, Jesus’ grace, love, mercy, and forgiveness is sufficient for us.

Jesus is calling you to trust that his love, grace, and mercy is sufficient for you, and for all of us sinful people, to become his disciples and servants in the world. Listen, Jesus is calling, “Don’t be afraid, from now on you will be catching people.” Will you get up and follow Jesus?

Yours in Christ,

Pastor Kent Claussen Gubrud

Adult Education and Discipleship

Adult Small Groups – Book of Faith

What is the Book of Faith? Small Groups meeting once a month for four months for Bible Study, Fellowship, and Renewal – we need new Leaders and Hosts to start new groups in January! Please contact Pastor Kent if interested!

- The Small Group leaders set the day, time, and place (breakfast, lunch, Friday dinner, Monday night dessert, or Sunday afternoon) and determine what kind of group (ie. Couples, singles, women, men, young adults, or open to anyone).
- People sign up for a group that fits their interest and schedule.

How can I get involved? We need new small group leaders and hosts!!!

We can't have a group without someone to guide the conversation, that's the role of the small group leader, to keep the conversation going. Leaders are not teachers or experts. And they have partners, the Hosts, who arrange for a place to meet and treats to eat. This is about learning and building relationships in a fun, faith-filled setting.

Interested in serving as a Small Group Leader or Host?

The Weekend to Remember conference, March 12-14 at the Minneapolis Marriott Center, helps couples create the kind of memories that build a healthy marriage. It's never too late to apply God's truth to relationships. Just ask the many couples who were on the brink of divorce when they found us and are flourishing today. Or the ones who discovered a level of intimacy they never thought possible. Weekend to Remember is a fun, non-threatening, and sometimes hilarious experience. It's a wonderful time to refresh good marriages or heal troubled ones. For more information talk to Joe and Carla Tappainer, or check out the website at www.familylife.com/weekend and register with the group name "CarlaJoe."

Munchkin Minute

Happy New Year, everyone! It's time for an update on the goings-on of the preschool and kindergarten classes. The year has been running as smooth as glass. We have a great bunch of kids and amazing volunteers. So what have we been doing in class this year? We've been having fun and learning about God.

The first part of the year we focused on Old Testament people—in particular Moses and Joseph; so many life lessons to be learned from these saints. As Christmas rolled around, we focused on the birth of our Savior. The stories of His humble beginnings and loving parents and watchful heavenly Father are a joy and comfort for all kids to hear.

Did you all happen to see the pre's and k's get up and sing for the congregation in November? They sang "Jesus Loves Me" (with hand motions). And even though they are a very quiet group this year, their effort on that stage delighted all of us teachers to no end, as well as the congregation, no doubt.

And then came the Christmas program. The kids learned their three songs, put on their robes and halos, and hit the stage! They were awesome! We are so proud of them. I can only imagine the joyous celebration that was taking place in Heaven as our little earth angels sang that morning.

Now our classes will be focusing on Jesus growing up and then beginning His ministry.

The Children and Family Ministry Committee has some events coming up involving CV kids, so be on the lookout for information. One event will be happening in February for preschool to 5th graders—Sledding!! Neill Park and your ginormous snow hill—here we come! 2010 is shaping up to be a fun-filled year packed with events and celebrations to bring us all closer together as a family while feeding our hearts and strengthening us to be God's servants. And for those who have been considering becoming involved in our ministry (or any CV committee) but still aren't sure, the first step is to just show up. We do have a lot of fun.

Until next time—enjoy our beautiful winter! Doug

Easy Ways to Build Assets for and with Your Child

EAST FACTS

ASSET #26:
Caring

Youth are more likely to grow up healthy when they place high value on helping other people.

50%
of youth surveyed by Search Institute have this asset in their lives.*

What Are Assets?

Assets are 40 values, experiences, and qualities that help kids succeed. "Caring" is one of six positive-values assets.

* Based on Search Institute surveys of 217,377 6th- to 12th-grade youth throughout the United States during the 1999-2000 school year.

Caring Begins at Home

One family decided to show an elderly widow that they cared about her by cleaning up her yard and planting flowers. The five children were so excited about the idea, they told their friends. On the day of the project, 15 kids showed up to help. The parents had to ask neighbors to help drive everyone to the woman's home.

After completing the project, the young people decided to start what they called the Kids Care Club and began planning their next event. This time, 25 kids showed up. They packed bag lunches (and decorated them) for a soup kitchen.

Since then, the Kids Care Club has been a model for other families, neighborhoods, communities, congregations, and schools. You can start your own Kids Care Club in your family with one small project. Then register your club with the National Kids Care Clubs. Write a letter explaining why you want to help others and send it to Kids Care Clubs, 975 Boston Post Rd., Darien, CT 06820. You will receive newsletters that include ideas from other young people who are doing acts of caring.

Who Cares?

According to Search Institute researchers, girls are much more likely than boys to value caring. Of the girls surveyed, 84% said helping other people was important to them, and 76% said it was important to help make the world a better place. For boys, the percentages were 66% and 62%, respectively.

Quick Tip:
A smile is a quick way to show someone you care.

The Definition of Caring

Caring about others includes caring for a lot of different people: those in your family, neighborhood, school, community, state, country, and world. It can include caring for animals and the environment, too.

time together

Three ways to help your child value caring:

1. Volunteer on a family at an animal shelter, a nature center, or a food bank.
2. Visit neighbors and extended family who live alone.
3. Spend money on a family in need instead of each other at holiday time.

4 Keys to Caring

Caring includes reaching out to others and respecting the environment. Teach your child these four ways to care:

- HOLD THE DOOR FOR THE PERSON AFTER YOU WHEN YOU WALK INTO SCHOOL.
- SIT WITH SOMEONE ON THE BUS WHO USUALLY SITS ALONE.
- COMPLIMENT AT LEAST ONE PERSON EVERY DAY.
- PICK UP LITTER AROUND YOUR SCHOOL OR NEIGHBORHOOD.

talk together

- Questions to discuss with your child:
- How important is it for you to help other people, including adults? Why?
 - When have you enjoyed helping others? What happened?
 - In what way would you like to help others now?

Two Types of Caring

Caring for others can take place in two ways through direct caring (which involves human interaction) and indirect caring (when we do things for people but don't see them). It's important for young people to be involved in both direct and indirect caring. Look at the two lists below. Where does your family put forth most of its caring energies?

Direct caring—Spending time with people needing care; interacting with others getting direct feedback from people you're caring for.

Indirect caring—Collecting money, food, or other items to give to people who distribute the items to those in need; hearing feedback from organizers who help the people.
